

BLACK HEART™

unparalleled string performance

We believe in performance and the relentless pursuit of maximizing every shot through meticulous attention to detail and a blending of handmade craftsmanship with modern materials. We believe in people who continuously look for an edge — people who know that every shot counts. We believe that making bowstrings by hand is the best way to enhance the experience and to deliver uncompromising performance shot after shot.

Crafted in Pennsylvania, USA

Born from a place where our fathers and their fathers worked the land, mined iron ore, forged steel and handcrafted the things that built this great nation — a place where they hunted the land, passing the tradition from one generation to the next. Through hard work, ingenuity and the pursuit of something better, they fostered technology, optimized resources and were unafraid to dream. It's that legacy that compels us to hunt and to produce the absolute finest bowstrings using the right blend of modern materials, machinery and time-honored techniques.

Work ethic, dedication to craftsmanship and a relentless pursuit of the perfect shot — we are BlackHeart and we craft bowstrings.

A close-up, high-contrast photograph of a tennis racket's internal frame and strings. The frame is dark and metallic, with several strings visible. The strings are a light color, possibly white or silver, and are shown in a way that emphasizes their texture and the way they are woven into the frame. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights and deep shadows, creating a sense of precision and craftsmanship.

DuraWeave™ String Construction

BlackHeart strings and cables are produced using our exclusive DuraWeave process. The process includes pre-stretching the strands, resulting in highly consistent string length — not just out of the box, but shot after shot.

GlideLock™ Center-Serving

BlackHeart strings feature our innovative GlideLock center-serving technology. This durability enhancing and friction reducing process virtually locks the center-serving strands together in a way that greatly reduces separation while almost completely eliminating the ridges between them. Less ridges, less friction.

bowstrings

BlackHeart crossbow strings are crafted using the right blend of modern materials, machinery and time-honored techniques. The result, a bowstring featuring our innovative GlideLock™ center-serving and exclusive DuraWeave™ construction that makes for the absolute finest bowstring available today. Each string is meticulously handcrafted to fit your crossbow.

cables

BlackHeart crossbow cables are crafted using the same blend of modern materials, machinery and time-honored techniques as our strings. Featuring our exclusive DuraWeave™ construction, our cables are meticulously handcrafted to fit your crossbow.

premium crossbow string wax (1 oz tube)

An agile string is a fast string — BlackHeart's premium crossbow string wax not only protects your strings and cables from natural weathering effects, it also deeply penetrates the string fibers, conditioning them in a way that offers unheard of performance — and believe us, we put it to the test.
